-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 1 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-18, drawn to a method for requesting service from a checkout line at a second site, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- II. Claims 19-22, drawn to a method for requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including a customer registration page, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- III. Claims 23-27, drawn to a method for requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including adding the at least one product to to an electronic shopping cart upon the customer, through the browser, instructing that the at least one product be added to the electronic shopping cart, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- IV. Claim 28, drawn to a method for requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including information identifying a plurality of second sites and customer transaction information, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- V. Claims 29-38, drawn to a method for causing the content of the electronic shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site, classified in class 705, subclass 26.

- VI. Claims 39-41, drawn to a method for causing the content of the electronic shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site and customer transaction information, classified in class 705, subclass 26.
- VII. Claims 42-45, drawn to a method for requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including a customer registration page along with brand preferences for at least one category of products, classified in class 705, subclass 26.

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as a customer registration page. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including adding the at least one product to to an electronic shopping cart upon the customer, through the browser, instructing that the at least one product be added to the electronic shopping cart. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as information identifying a plurality of second sites and customer transaction information. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention V has separate utility such as shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and VI are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention VI has separate utility such as shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site and customer transaction information. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and VII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention VII has separate utility such as requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including a customer registration page along with brand preferences for at least one category of products.

See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including adding the at least one product to to an electronic shopping cart upon the customer, through the browser, instructing that the at least one product be added to the electronic shopping cart. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as information identifying a plurality of second sites and customer transaction information. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention V has separate utility such as shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and VI are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention VI has separate utility such as shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site and customer transaction information. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions II and VII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention VII has separate utility such as requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including a customer registration page along with brand preferences for at least one category of products. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention IV has separate utility such as information identifying a plurality of second sites and customer transaction information. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions IV and V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention V has separate utility such as shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions V and VI are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention VI has separate utility such as shopping cart to be stored so that it is accessible to the customer when the customer browser is transferred to a checkout line of a second site and customer transaction information. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions V and VII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention VII has separate utility such as requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including a customer registration page along with brand preferences for at least one category of products. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions VI and VII are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention VII has separate utility such as requesting service from a checkout line at a second site including a customer registration page along with brand preferences for at least one category of products. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Group IA – 1,2,3,7,8,10,11,12

Group IB – 1,2,3,7,8,9

Group IC – 1,2,3,7,8,13,14,15,16

Group ID – 1,2,4,17,18

Group IIA – 19,20,21

Group IIB – 19,20,22

Group IIIA – 23,24,25

Group IIIB – 23,25,26,27

Group IIIC – 23,23,25

Group VA – 29,30,31

Group VB – 29,32

Group VC – 29,33

Group VD – 29,34,35,36

Group VE – 29,34,36,37,38

Group VIIA – 42,43

Group VIIA – 42,44

Group VIIA – 42,45

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1,19,23,28,29,39, and 42 generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Mark Fadok whose telephone number is (703) 605-4252. The examiner can normally be reached Monday thru Thursday 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM.
